

FALL GALLERY NIGHT

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 2017

www.fwada.com

FWADA is a unique arts organization in a unique American place. Few cities of Fort Worth's size are privileged to command such a wealth of major art museums, and fewer still have such a vital community spirit. What truly sets Fort Worth apart, however, is the vigorous, longstanding, clearly defined cooperation between the museums, the university art galleries, the non-profit exhibition spaces, and the art dealers, all of which are full working members of FWADA. To fulfill its stated mission to stimulate interest in the visual arts through educational programs, art scholarships, and art competitions, FWADA organizes, funds, and hosts exhibitions of noteworthy art. It sponsors the Fall Gallery Night for members and friends, as well as Spring Gallery Night.

All these attainments have created a stable environment that produces a steady stream of top-notch talent, including major local artists who exhibit their work nationally and internationally. Newcomers are frequently dazzled by the quality of work being created in every medium and style. Their passion reinvigorates Fort Worth patrons who have become habituated to the riches that surround them, reminding them anew that the most authentic cultural connection they can make is the one that affords direct communication with the artists who interpret and illuminate the life experience they share through common background and interests. Although the city is justly recognized for its cosmopolitan worldview, it is the local artists and their devoted collectors who are the lifeblood of the Fort Worth art market.

The members of the Fort Worth Art Dealers Association are pledged to the maintenance of a high standard of ethical conduct and professional integrity, these businesses furnish a model that gallery associations in other cities might do well to emulate. FWADA is to be commended for its important role as a contributor to the cultural and esthetic richness of Fort Worth.

Fluid Expressions: The Prints of Helen Frankenthaler

Although widely known for her iconic “soak-stain” canvases, Helen Frankenthaler (1928–2011) was an equally inventive printmaker who took risks in a medium not frequently explored by abstract expressionists. Fluid Expressions highlights the artist's often-overlooked, yet highly original and whimsical print production. This exhibition closes tomorrow! Free admission.

On view through October 7

"Finding Fanon," is a three-part film series and installation by UK artists Larry Achiampong and David Blandy who work collaboratively and share an interest in popular culture and the postcolonial position. They examine communal and personal heritage, using performance to investigate 'the self' as a fiction, devising alter-egos to point at their divided selves. Finding Fanon is inspired by the lost plays of Frantz Fanon (1925-1961), a politically radical humanist whose research and writing looked at the psychological effects of colonization and the social and cultural consequences of decolonization.

A native of South Carolina, Bill graduated from the Ringling College of Art followed by a graduate teaching assistant position at The Institute San Miguel de Allende in Mexico. His paintings can be found in major private art collections as well as the permanent collections of the Ogden Museum, the South Carolina State Museum, the Gibbes Museum and the U.S. State Department Art Bank. An exhibition of paintings & sculptures by Jeff Kellar.....A shape rests upon a shape..... Color presses upon color. Using a mixture of resin, clay and pigment to assemble blocks of color that position themselves in space, Maine artist Jeff Kellar paints on thin aluminum composite panels that float away from the wall. The colors are made up of many layers of the medium, the panels becoming a surface to hold an illusion. All the wonder of the world finds shape in gravity and light.

This group of paintings and prints is a retrospective exhibition that starts with Blackstonian from the forest near the Mosel River in Germany and ends with winter scenes from his boyhood in Sussex, New Jersey. Following a realist tradition, Conn carves an image into a linoleum block using one tool. Then, by enlarging the image to a painting scale the lines between representation and abstraction are interwoven, creating a sense of being in and of the forest.

BRIT will be open from 4pm – 9pm on Gallery Night with a public reception from 6pm – 8pm and a gallery talk by the artist at 6:15pm. For more information please visit www.brit.org.

Rusiloski and Fernandez explore the dynamic of being husband and wife, art professors and parents. Rusiloski grew up in rural Pennsylvania. Fernandez grew up in Northern Mexico. Their diverse backgrounds are a foundation for their current aesthetic interests. The Romantic and monumental qualities of mountains, desert and water continually influence them. Both abstract nature in their work. Their family, including five daughters ages 3 to 9, traversed the landscape from Texas to the New England coast via Niagara Falls, the great lakes, upstate New York and Pennsylvania. The family also visited Big Bend, the Texas Gulf Coast, Ciudad Acuna and Ojinaga. These travels were artistically invigorating. Rusiloski and Fernandez approach art-making and family life as a single inseparable endeavor.
