FORT WORTH ART DEALERS ASSOCIATION
SPRING GALLERY GUIDE
March 25

2023
FWADA is a unique arts organization in a unique American place. Few cities of Fort Worth's size are privileged to command such a wealth of major art museums, and fewer still have such a vital community spirit. What truly sets Fort Worth apart, however, is the vigorous, longstanding, clearly defined cooperation between the museums, the university art galleries, the non-profit exhibition spaces, and the art dealers, all of which are full working members of FWADA.

To fulfill its stated mission to stimulate interest in the visual arts through educational programs, art scholarships, and art competitions, FWADA organizes, funds, and hosts exhibitions of noteworthy art.

FWADA sponsors the annual Fall Gallery Night and Spring Gallery Night for members and friends. FWADA also sponsors an annual show featuring submitted artworks from Member institutions, the summer Selections exhibition. Keep an eye out for our Gallery Guide! You can find our most recent issue in your FW Weekly newspaper, or pick one up at a Member gallery or museum.

All these attainments have created a stable environment that produces a steady stream of top-notch talent, including major local artists who exhibit their work nationally and internationally. Newcomers are frequently dazzled by the quality of work being created in every medium and style. Their passion reinvigorates Fort Worth patrons who have become habituated to the riches that surround them, reminding them anew that the most authentic cultural connection they can make is the one that affords direct communication with the artists who interpret and illuminate the life experience they share through common background and interests. Although the city is justly recognized for its cosmopolitan worldview, it is the local artists and their devoted collectors who are the lifeblood of the Fort Worth art market.

The members of the Fort Worth Art Dealers Association are pledged to the maintenance of a high standard of ethical conduct and professional integrity; these businesses furnish a model that gallery associations in other cities might do well to emulate. FWADA is to be commended for its important role as a contributor to the cultural and aesthetic richness of Fort Worth.

“Las Colecciones” – Galería de la Rosa & Annex Galleries

Las Colecciones (The Collections) exhibition celebrates and showcases local Latino/a/x artists working with different themes and across various disciplines. The exhibition highlights the diversity of the Latino/a/x experiences and perspectives in the North Texas region and Mexico. A special GRACIAS to all the artists that celebrate nuestra cultura!
CTRL+X Composed/desCompuestos
CTRL+X Composed/desCompuestos is a two-person exhibition curated by Maritza Bautista featuring the artwork of Gil Rocha and Cande Aguilar, both from South Texas in the Marlene and Spencer Hays Foundation Gallery. CTRL+X is the keyboard shortcut for “cut.” Here it represents a rasquache aesthetic of cutting, or taking from cultural representations, objects and visuals, that exist on the U.S./Mexico border region. The objects and materials are often scavenged or collected by Rocha and Aguilar from their original context—their hometowns—to reframe a new, yet authentic, survival mechanism needed to thrive as a contemporary artist living and creating in a culturally impoverished landscape - where few to no museums or galleries exist.

Keep me Close: Work of Gloria Sepp
Gloria paints primarily in abstract expressionism, creating beautiful, thoughtful, soulful, and calming work. The majority of work is done in oil and acrylic on canvas, although watercolors on paper are also abundant, along with acrylic on wood panels. Gloria has multiple degrees in Art, and uses the brush, paint, canvas, colors, and paper to express her emotions.

Stroll the gallery to visit and enjoy the work of Kay Wirz whose impressionistic, colorful pieces are delightfully playful and invoke smiles and awe, as does as the work of Camille Kerr depictions of nature and everyday events painted in oil acrylic and watercolor. Artist Barry Udo’s abstracts contain small pieces of realism and mystery and are composed of oil on canvas with ground mediums added. Joe Badillo will be exhibiting his works in acrylic and oil on paper and metal, along with Phillip Ecton’s original concepts on printed on paper and canvas. Delores Hibbard works primarily in oil for landscapes, while Gale Johnston paints pastel hues in watercolor, acrylic, and on canvas. Also represented are Jennifer Stufflebeam (Works on Canvas), Bob Fox (Monotypes on paper) and Todd Ford (Work on Canvas).

Exhibition: Caro Thompson Jackson
Caro’s style borders on impressionism, mainly concentrating on landscapes in oil; it’s full of motion and color. Mountains and southwest images capture her fancy. She shares her love of color in inspiring new work, with new motifs. It is a happy exhibition.
FWA is pleased to present two solo exhibitions from North Texas artists, Joshua Goode and Tejuola.

The Ruins of Burg Worth is a solo exhibition by Fort Worth artist and curator, Joshua Goode. The gallery will feature a collection of his faux artifacts and remnants of an “ancient” past while incorporating elements of an interactive installation and performance art.

Lines of Descent is a major retrospective of Tejuola. At the core of her work, Tejuola is focused on storytelling. Her chosen media, American gourds and African calabashes, are engraved with narratives of ancestry and the African and African American experience.
Art Brut
This is the most eclectic and funky show we’ve ever had. This group exhibition features paintings and drawings with shocking style and charisma by artists who are not afraid to rock the establishment of fine art. What unites these works is a sense of outsider energy and iconoclasm, a willingness to push beyond the boundaries of convention and create something wholly new. Artists include Texas natives George Zupp, Andy Don Emmons, Jackdaw Russell and many others that will delight your palette.

Life and Death: Luis Jiménez is an exhibition of works by the late, internationally known artist Luis Jiménez who was born in El Paso, Texas and died in Hondo, New Mexico in 2006. Guest curators Benito Huerta and Christina Rees have borrowed a wide array of Jiménez’s works from galleries, museums, and private collections throughout the region. The 35 works, ranging in date from 1973 through 2001, include maquettes, sketches, studies, drawings and prints that he created to work through ideas that culminated in his famous large-scale sculptures.

Bridges III, a concurrent exhibition, features 2 borrowed museum pieces, Sherrie Levine’s After Russell Lee: 1-60, 2016, and Edouard Duval-Carrié’s Lost at Sea, 2014, for a third chapter in an ongoing collaboration with the Art Bridges Foundation. A photograph by local artist Celia Alvarez Muñoz was selected to create a metaphoric bridge or dialogue between the various artists’ themes and approaches to artmaking.

Dewane Hughes is our featured artist. His work has always dealt with language. Influenced heavily by the poets of the Beat Generation, as well as subsequent linguistic scholars such as Noam Chomsky and Marshall McLuhan, he tries to create a formal reality that speaks to the essence of communication. It is his contention that all “art” happens in the space between the object and the viewer.

One will, also, see new works by Rebecca Low, Chasity Hernandez, David Mikitka, Tatara Siegel, Crescencio Parra, David Burkhart, DeWayne Nall, Terry Jones

Night & Day: Frederic Remington’s Final Decade, features artworks from the artist’s last 10 years of his life in which Remington strove to revise his color palette, compositional structure, and brushwork as he set his Western subjects under an interchanging backdrop of the shadows of night and the dazzling light of day. The exhibit includes 10 of Remington’s nocturnes, or what the artist referred to as his “moonlights.” In honor of FWADA’s Spring Gallery Night, the museum has invited Fort Worth artist Erika Duque to paint in our galleries. Visitors can stop by between 6:00pm – 7:30pm to see the artist in process as she paints night-based landscapes. No registration is required.

Over my Head: Benjamin Loftis - MFA Thesis Exhibition

It started with a hit and ended with a tear. Ever since I was a little boy, I remember the physical and emotional abuse that was my life. As an adult, those psychological and emotional effects still permeate; seeping out like a wound that won’t heal, a glass that’s too full. By using symbols and metaphors to explore the human condition, these childhood experiences fuel a desire to understand the psychological and physical tolls of the evocation of trauma. The physical body and the function of that body are a recurring thread throughout my work, specifically my role as a caretaker. Through the remembrance of that time, the smell of candy, the sound of a bang, a picture of shoes, this vulnerable work seeks to represent a common thread of humanity, which is the hurdles we experience in life. Bernd Haussmann | Awe

This original location of the gallery presents an exhibition by Bernd Haussmann in his solo exhibition titled: Awe. The works by Bernd Haussmann are organic in color and approach. Haussmann describes the delicate ink and turpentinied oil renderings of plant life as they represent “nature as a fractional environment.” Oil paintings and works on paper by Haussmann will make up the exhibition. Bernd comments on the subject as: “And the Art of the Nature We Are, (Awe and the nurture of art - Awe and the art we are), The meaning of awe is open, undefined, a moment. It can go in opposite directions, towards awesome or awful." The delicate palate and deliberate incised lines in the watercolors and oils convey the unifying message of the fragility of nature.

Please join us at both gallery locations for Spring Gallery night and during our regular business hours to view these abundant exhibitions.
William Campbell Gallery is pleased to present two solo exhibitions at the gallery’s newest location in the Foundry District of Fort Worth. The solo debut of the gallery’s newest artist Lee Albert Hill in: Semioshphere, whose work is architecturally inspired and are robust canvas-wrapped panels in bold color. Lee is a Texas-based painter and architect by trade who has been painting for over 25 years.

Lloyd Martin’s solo exhibition titled: Intonate Schemes will also open on gallery night. Lloyd’s newest series of paintings are vibrant evolutions of his layered and translucent technique. The identifiable translucence of “under-color which are the ghosts of the central image” says, Martin.

Please join us at both gallery locations for Spring Gallery night and during our regular business hours to view these abundant exhibitions.

Bale Creek Allen Gallery will be presenting “I Know it’s a Distance”, a solo exhibition of new paintings by New York based artist Nathan Randall Green. His richly colored works contemplate the grandeur and scale of the universe.

Bale Creek Allen Gallery focuses on regional, national and international contemporary art.

is a tripartite environmental art exhibition emerging from a research-based creative collaboration with Dr. Alejandra Vasco, Research Botanist, Ana Niño, Librarian, and Tiana Rehman, Herbarium Director at the Botanical Research Institute of Texas (BRIT). As an artist affiliated with BRIT since July 2021, Doherty investigated the crucial physical artifacts of botanical biodiversity research – from a collection of diaphanized plants made in the 1950s to a contemporary Andean biodiversity project focused on diverse ferns threatened by climate change and ecosystem disruption.

With this exhibition, Dornith Doherty presents new large-scale artworks that engage with the past, chronicle the present, and project our possible ecological futures. The exhibition includes Doherty’s large-scale transparencies made from mid-20th century American plant studies, artworks made from images of ferns recently discovered in the tropics of Colombia, and a projection of animated genomic data from these plants.
